PRESENTATION OF THE IO5_PILOTING_ SOCIAL POLICIES FOR THE VULNERABLE GROUPS AND THE MEDIA OF THE ERMISCOM PROJECT

SOCIAL POLICIES FOR VULNERABLE GROUPS AND THE MEDIA

E-class NKUA, Department of Communication, Dr. Savvatou Tsolakidou

Course Description: MEDIA522

The course tackle issues of European and national policies for vulnerable groups such as youth, unemployed, women, refugee and migrants, and ethnic minorities with a specific resentation on Roma integration, homeless people, children, and social policy for the elderly.

Specific reference is made to the European Pillar for Social Rights, the European policy on asylum and migration, the Employment policies, and the social policy for fighting poverty. It also focuses on the policy measures during the pandemic crisis in Europe and in third countries. Social Policies and how the different measures for the above-mentioned vulnerable groups are represented in the Media is another important dimension of the course.

The above table shows the timetable of the piloting to mainly ERASMUS students. Two of the courses were held online by guest speakers from the partner organisations responsible for the writing of the above chapters.

The students were evaluated with written assignments individually or in pairs and the topics of the assignments were the following:

- GENDER EQUALITY THROUGH MEDIA, by Adela Hervés García
- SOCIAL POLICIES FOR VULNERABLE GROUPS AND THE MEDIA, by Lepore Chiara
- RELATION OF WORK AND POVERTY, by Lene Delfs
- COVID-19 ON YOUTH AND VULNERABLE GROUPS IN FRANCE, by Salomé MAJEWICZ

The final evaluation of the course took place during a discussion session and the students suggested some clarifications and deeper development of some of the subject. The writers adjusted their chapters accordingly.
